"The Regifters"

We all know the holiday season can bring many stresses, especially worrying about giving the right gift. We think we have the answer with this light-hearted comedy about gift giving. We'll get your holiday season off to a good start with joy and laughter!

November 15 we depart from Decorah and pick up through our guaranteed departure cities (see below) and travel south to Dubuque. We plan to arrive in time for lunch buffet at Bishops. Regulars go to Bishops because they know their favorite dishes will always be there. They also know they'll have a variety of new dishes from which to choose. If you finish early maybe you would like to browse around the mall.

After lunch we head to Grand Opera House in downtown Dubuque. Grand Opera House is the oldest theater in Dubuque and was built in 1889-1890. Done in Richardsonian architectural style, the original façade consists of St. Louis brick facing with Bayfield red sandstone trim. With recent renovations Dubuque's oldest theatre is now its newest. Get ready for fun and laughter as you enjoy "The Regifters," an original play by Dubuque playwright Robert Lynn. As the story unfolds, four couples, the Henshaws, Mulligans, Cunninghams and Weisses try to deal with the stress and pressures of the holiday season, and decide to "regift" a mysterious holiday offering, passing it along in succession to each other. When the regifters discover the gift is actually quite valuable, the pursuit begins to get the gift back with hilarious results!

As you enjoy your ride home, maybe you'll have some holiday season stories of your own to share with your fellow travelers.
